Dahl I have this at school for my daily calendar and the teachers love to check out Jeremy's antics and I love that it resembles my own teenager so much. I also like that it has daily trivia or puzzles on the back of each day's comic. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Puzzles on the back. By chickenchick Nice touch that it has puzzles and games on the back of each page. We love Zits! 1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. Loads of Fun for 2017 By Wind Star Beautiful color comic strips compiled for the entire year. Always a chuckle (or sometimes moan) for the whole family. A favorite day by day calendar in our home for several years. :D

The great divide of communication and understanding between teenagers and parents is bridged by humor in the Zits comic strip, presented on each page of the Zits 2017 Day-to-Day Calendar. Curfew, laundry, homework, first job, dating...all are topics that sixteen year-old Jeremy Duncan sees differently than his parents, Walt and Connie. The Zits strip provides a window into the world of life with a teenager in a way that brings the generations together to share a laugh...and possibly see the other's point of view. People of all ages will enjoy this honest and humorous calendar with a different, full-color strip each day.

About the Author Jerry Scott is the co-creator of the award-winning comic strip Zits. He lives in central coastal California. Jerry's work on Baby Blues has delighted fans and wowed the cartooning world since he launched the strip with Rick Kirkman in 1990. Co-creator Jim Borgman and his wife are the proud parents of five children. He has also won a Reuben Award and a Pulitzer Prize. Both he and Jerry have LOTS of experience with teenagers.
